

Brad M. Russell

Brad Russell, bonsai professional and enthusiast, is the co-owner of The Bonsai Learning Center, with 2 locations in North Carolina, one in Statesville and the other in Holly Springs.

The Bonsai Learning Center is the premier location in the South-

East for a full line of bonsai supplies as well as educational programs.

In the course of his work in the landscaping business, Brad was introduced to the world of bonsai by his teacher, Randy Clark, former owner of the Bonsai Learning Center. Brad credits Randy with inspiring him to make the effort to achieve a greater understanding of the aesthetics and horticulture of bonsai. After working for Randy for 3 years, Brad had the good fortune to team up with Bryan Mercer and, together, to acquire ownership of the Bonsai Learning Center and assume operation of the bonsai business.

Over the years, Brad has worked with many bonsai artists from all parts of the world, deepening his knowledge of the artistry and techniques needed to transform plants into high-quality bonsai and to help educate his clients and students about the exhilarating art of bonsai. Brad has won numerous first-place awards for his trees in juried events, and maintains a busy schedule teaching bonsai classes and workshops.

Brad recently reopened the Bonsai Learning Center at its new location in Statesville, NC, and looks forward to continuing to promote the art of bonsai with other bonsai professionals and to inspire the wonderful people of the bonsai community. Please visit: <https://bonsailearningcenter.com/>